

SHORT Films BLOCK #4 - Followed by a Q&A with the filmmakers
LGBTQ
 Socially Relevant Film Festival NY - SRFF 2023

- Identity | New York Premiere — NARRATIVE SHORT
 David Tarleton, Adria Dawn | United States | 2022 | 7:46 mins
 A group of kids question who they are. The film follows a transgender boy who deals with cyberbullying, as straight, gay, non-binary, and trans kids explore their gender and pronouns, discovering the true value of friendship and support. This film was made in collaboration with middle and high school-aged LGBTQ+ youth, to tell their stories for social change. TRAILER

- Private View | US Premiere — DOC SHORT
 Sarah Myland | United Kingdom | 2022 | 16:56 mins
 Two British artists: the lesbian portrait painter Sadie Lee and the non-binary writer Libro Levi Bridgeman happen to have been born on the same day. They meet to collaborate on a portrait of Libro and discuss their lives from the 1980s onwards. Now, after 3 years, Sadie is ready to uncover the painting. This short documentary follows Sadie and Libro's friendship and the collaboration's surprising reveal. The portrait is a first for art, important for queer politics and sensational to see. Showing a queerer side of queer we've never seen before.

- Finding The Light | New York Premiere — DOC SHORT
 Brandon Haynes | United States | 2022 | 22:20 mins
 The story of Donna Hylton and her social justice non profit "A Little Piece of Light" which uses her experience in the prison system to support reform and reentry of other black women and LGBTQ+ TRAILER

- My Otherland: Linden Jordan | New York Premiere — DOC SHORT
 John R Bowey | United States | 2022 | 28:30 mins
 'My Otherland' explores the challenges of alienation and stigma - and what it takes to make the right choice, between living a double life, or being authentic, and risking stigma and judgement. Linden's story offers a refreshing insight into navigating life as his authentic self.

Early Bird $7 single tickets and $100 all-access passes are now on sale for a limited time only, here.