

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION: Coronavirus (COVID-19)

It is with a sad and heavy heart that we announce that SR Socially Relevant Film Festival NY has been postponed to a future date in the fall. We will inform concerned parties as such future date becomes possible and available with our venues. As a Festival we are at the forefront of social issues and how they affect us, and here is one in the middle of which we find ourselves.

This decision was not ours alone, as we just had a great interview with Leonard Lopate on @WBAI Pacifica Radio announcing the festival and mentioning most of the films on offer. However, shortly after getting off the air, we got the breaking news of the worsening situation, and had to abide by the closing of some of the important venues with whom we are working, most importantly the Lincoln Center where our opening was scheduled for Monday.

THE HEALTH AND SAFETY OF EVERYONE IS OF UTMOST CONCERN RIGHT NOW!

Thank you filmmakers, producers and PR people for all the hard work so far. Thank you panelists, jury members, and all partners, SPONSORS and supporters as well as patrons of the festival. We trust your hard work will not go down the drain or unnoticed as we have a ready package and it will be relatively easy to still hold a great seventh edition in the fall.

Please stay healthy, keep calm, and follow the health directives that have been circulating.

Sadly and humbly yours,

Nora Armani
Founding Artistic Director SRFF
